This one day workshop is essential for all nurses and health care professionals working in the field of critical care.

The day will include keynote presentations, interactive talks and panel discussions that will:

- explore recent advances and innovations in critical care nursing, considering the implications for patient care and professional practice
- share the latest research in the field of critical care nursing
- look at updates in the practice and effective management of sepsis patients
- consider what changes are needed to train and develop the critical care nurse of the future.

By attending the workshop you will have the opportunity to discuss practical challenges and consider ethical issues in critical care nursing. You can share your professional experiences and learn from peers within your specialty to develop your own practice.

Programme highlights

- Ebola virus disease and critical care: what can we do and where are the limits?
- The child in adult ITU.
- Moving from ICU to home to die.
- The role of advanced nursing in critical care.
